HISTORICAL VIEWPOINTS
Notable Articles from American Heritage
—in two volumes—

Samuel Eliot Morison, Perry Miller, J. H. Plumb, Richard B. Morris, Carl N. Degler, David Donald, C. Vann Woodward, Richard Hofstadter, William E. Leuchtenburg, John Kenneth Galbraith, and Daniel P. Moynihan are among the scholars represented in this collection. The articles—authoritative and analytical, yet interesting and readable—cover a wide range of topics spanning the entire history of the United States, from before the first settlements to the present day. Selected to provide a balanced assortment of readings, the essays included differ in purpose and approach; some present new findings, some reexamine old questions from a fresh point of view, others magisterially distill and synthesize masses of facts and ideas.

Together, the volumes include 48 readings. Professor Garraty has written a general introduction and introductions to each article. Just published. Volume I: To 1877—320 pp.; $3.95 paper. Volume II: Since 1865—352 pp.; $3.95 paper.

THE AMERICAN NATION
A History of the United States
—in one or two volumes—

This history of America from its exploration to the present has been widely acclaimed for its outstanding historical portraits of men and ideas; lively and dramatic narrative; authoritative scholarship; timely political and social coverage; unified approach; integration of text and illustrations; and synthesis of political, economic, social, and cultural trends. Included are 5 full-color and black-and-white portfolios of 25 pages each, more than 300 illustrations throughout the text, and over 60 maps and graphs. Instructor's Manual by P. H. Jordan, Jr. with P. J. Abbazia. Volume I: To 1877—480 pp.; $5.95. Volume II: Since 1865—498 pp.; $5.95. Complete Work—920 pp.; $11.95. Student's Guide by P. H. Jordan, Jr.—380 pp.; $3.95.

Both of the books described above are joint publications of Harper & Row, Publishers and American Heritage Publishing Co., Inc.
